From the beginning, the idea has been to make it so good that people who bought it once would continue to buy it. They do.

PROGRAM AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Some idea of the mysterious, weird and seemingly supernatural things done by Carter, the magician, who is to appear at the Opera House tonight can be obtained from the following reproduction of his program:

Part I.

Forty minutes with the inimitable Carter in "A Bouquet of Mysteries":
A.—Rapid Transit.
B.—Digital Manipulation.
C.—Enchanted Cone and Orange.
D.—Aerial Cards.
E.—Metamorphosis.
F.—The Astral Hand.
G.—Inexhaustible Bottle.

The closer you watch the less you see. The first part concludes with "The Magical Divorce," which is literally and metaphorically "out of sight." A novel conceit in which a human being is made to instantly vanish.

Part II.

"The Mysteries of the Yogi," in which the pet theories of Theosophists and Spiritualists are exploited. "Can such things be and overcome us like a summer cloud?"

Allan Shaw, presenting his modern creations in Digital Dexterity.
Corinne Carter, who unfolds a marvelous chapter from the supernatural, in an exhibition of thought transference, or mental telepathy. The result of years of study and research.

The second part concludes with the bewildering and bewitching illusion, entitled, "Flyto," an experiment in which the propulsion of the astral body seems possible.

THE WORKER MUST BE WELL

In these days of sharp competition everyone who works should be keyed up to the highest pitch of efficiency. The rewards of business life go to the clearest thinkers, to the men and women who know and do things better than other people.

But who can do his best work when the health is impaired, when the appetite fails to demand the food necessary to sustain the body, when strength is lacking and ambition gone? Surely the part of wisdom is to begin at once to build up the body to its normal condition, and this may be done more certainly by the use of

than any other medicine. It checks hacking coughs, sharpens the appetite, aids digestion, enriches the blood, restores flesh to the emaciated, and renews health and vigor. It is so agreeable to the taste that its regular use is a pleasure. Get it at your chemist's and be sure you get STEARNS'—the genuine.
